

VERMONT FATHERHOOD

RESOURCE GUIDE

MADE POSSIBLE WITH THE SUPPORT OF:

CASEY FAMILY PROGRAMS

AGENCY OF HUMAN SERVICES
DEPARTMENT FOR CHILDREN & FAMILIES

Message from the Commissioner

As the father of two sons and a former foster parent, I know the critical role fathers play in the lives of their children. We are an important source of love, nurturing, and guidance as well as emotional and financial support. But we are more than just wallets!

Research shows that children with involved, caring, and respectful fathers have better outcomes. They do better at school. They are more likely to be confident and emotionally secure, have stronger self-esteem, and achieve better both academically and professionally. Boys learn how to treat women from their fathers and girls learn how they should be treated.

The fact is that all fathers have the opportunity to influence their children's lives in powerful, positive, and healthy ways. It is within all of us.

I am pleased to provide you with this first edition of the Vermont Fatherhood Resource Guide. It lists national, statewide, and community-based resources that can help you in your role as father. Whether you need help to meet your family's needs, care for your children, or deal with your own issues, there is likely a resource out there that can help.

I would like to thank everyone who made this guide happen, with a special thanks to Casey Family Programs for their generous support of Vermont's Fatherhood Initiative.

All the best,

Dave Yacovone, Commissioner

Introduction

This guide was produced to connect you to national, statewide, and community-based resources that can support you in your role as father, parent, and provider. Having access to these supports and services can make a critical difference in your family's life.

The guide can help you find:

- ▶ Child care for your child;
- ▶ Early childhood services for a child with developmental delays or special health needs;
- ▶ Health, mental health, and substance abuse treatment services;
- ▶ Information about parenting issues;
- ▶ Local parent support groups and parent education classes;
- ▶ Playgroups and other fun activities to do with your child;
- ▶ Programs that can help you meet your family's basic needs (e.g., for food, energy, fuel, housing, and transportation); and
- ▶ Resources that can help you further your education and find a job.

Using this Guide

The guide is organized into five sections:

1. National organizations;
2. State government;
3. Statewide organizations;
4. Community-based organizations; and
5. Resources and literature.

If you need resources not found in this guide,

- ▶ Try the resource directories listed in Section 5 (page 30); or
- ▶ Dial 2-1-1 toll free from anywhere in Vermont. A call specialist will help you find resources in your area.

★ Organizations that offer programs and services specifically for fathers are highlighted in green.

VERMONT DEPARTMENT FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES (DCF)

WEBSITE: www.dcf.vermont.gov

DESCRIPTION: DCF provides a wide array of programs and services to foster the healthy development, safety, well-being, and self-sufficiency of Vermonters. This includes child care, child development, child protection, child support, disability determination, and economic benefits.

► DCF'S CHILD DEVELOPMENT DIVISION (CDD) – CHILD CARE SERVICES

WEBSITE: dcf.vermont.gov/contact-dcf/cccsa

TELEPHONE: 1-800-649-2642

DESCRIPTION: CDD administers two programs that can help parents find and pay for child care.

1. The Child Care Referral Service can help you find a registered/licensed child care provider.
2. The Child Care Financial Assistance Program can help cover part of the cost of child care if you have an accepted reason for child care and meet current income guidelines.

Both programs are delivered through 12 Community Child Care Support Agencies located throughout the state. You can find contact information for these agencies by calling the phone number or visiting the website listed above. Listings for these agencies can also be found in the listings by county starting on page 15.

► DCF'S CHILD DEVELOPMENT DIVISION (CDD) – CHILD DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

WEBSITE: dcf.vermont.gov/child-development/cis

TELEPHONE: 1-800-649-2642

DESCRIPTION: CDD also administers Children's Integrated Services (CIS) – a resource for families who have questions or concerns about their children's development. CIS can help:

- Families who need help providing stable, healthy environments for children (e.g., family counseling and parenting classes); and
- Families with children age 6 or younger who may have developmental delays or conditions.

To find out more about CIS services:

1. Dial 2-1-1 toll free from anywhere in Vermont. Ask the operator for the name and phone number of your local CIS Coordinator.
2. The Coordinator will discuss your concerns, the help you are seeking, and possible next steps. If CIS services seem right for your family, your local team will help you develop an action plan; provide resources and services and/or referrals; and help you access other programs and community services. CIS teams have expertise in social work, family support, maternal and child health, nursing, child development and early intervention, early childhood and family mental health, child care, and other specialties such as nutrition and speech therapy.

► DCF'S ECONOMIC SERVICES DIVISION (ESD)

WEBSITE: dcf.vermont.gov/esd, www.mybenefits.vt.gov

TELEPHONE: 1-800-479-6151

DESCRIPTION: ESD administers several benefit programs that can help families meet their basic needs (e.g., for food, energy, fuel, and housing). These programs include 3SquaresVT, Emergency/General Assistance, Energy Assistance, Essential Person, Fuel Assistance, Phone Assistance, and Reach Up. These programs provide a safety net for individuals and families who may be experiencing unemployment, single parenthood, aging, disability, or other life-changing event.

Eligibility for most programs is based on family or household income and additional criteria in some cases. To find out more and to apply for benefits:

1. Visit the www.mybenefits.vt.gov website;
2. Call the Benefits Service Center at 1-800-479-6151; or
3. Visit an ESD District Office during regular business hours:
