P-2730     Eligibility Tests and Proofs

AABD eligibility tests and proofs include:

    general factors of citizenship; state residence and institutional residence.

    categorical factors of age, blindness or disability.

    financial need factors of assistance group, resources and income.

Eligibility tests for Federally administered AABD supplements are identical to Federal SSI tests established by Social Security Administration rules and applied by Social Security Office operation.

Eligibility tests listed in following sections apply to State administered AABD (Essential Person) only. Proof sources listed may be helpful to SSI/AABD applicants having trouble with SSI/AABD tests and asking for department help.
